

NEW! Academic Distribution Program

“High Country News, the ‘magazine of the West’ ... is deep, broad, accurate, contemporary, historical, colorful, brave, and profoundly educational.”

— Charles Wilkinson, Moses Lasky Professor of Law,
University of Colorado

Join our new ACADEMIC DISTRIBUTION PROGRAM and provide your students with award-winning reporting on the West’s most important issues concerning the environment, natural sciences, politics and community trends.

This program is offered at the drastically reduced rate of $5 per student – HCN’s cost – and includes shipping. We ask that you order in groups of 25 and 50 so that HCN can offer this low cost.

Contact Marla Bishop at marlab@hcn.org or call 970-527-4898 to sign up for the summer and fall semesters.

SAVE THEMSELVES.

While dolphins are certainly talented, many of Earth’s other creatures are not as fortunate. It’s expecting a lot out of most living things to rescue themselves from the ever-growing list of problems facing our planet. The power to preserve and restore our planet’s resources lies in the hands of those most capable of doing so: us. Unless companies devote financial resources to protect natural resources, business as we know it may cease to exist. The future of global business is being secured by 1% For The Planet, a growing alliance of businesses around the world pledging one percent of their sales to nonprofit organizations that support the environment.

Becoming a member of 1% For The Planet promises that your company is making a positive impact on the planet where we do business. Supporting members of 1% means that the purchases you make are changing the world we live in. For a complete list of member-companies you can support, or to find out more about how your company can help keep Earth in business, visit onepercentfortheplanet.org.
